Landscaping Will Make New Highway One of Prettiest

MORE ABOUT THE HIGHWAY: A landscaping job is in progress on the Mitchellville-to-Dixon Springs highway that will make the 22-mile drive one of the prettiest in the Midwest.

The S. J. Groves Construction Co., contractors for the paving job, subcontracted the landscaping job to R. G. Baty and Son of Peoria, and this contracting firm already has started on its work.

As if the highway itself will not be beautiful enough, with the 22-mile ribbon winding through the hill country and its rocks and forests, take a look at this:

On the slopes along the 22-mile stretch of highway there will be honeysuckle, multi-flora rose, and seedlings of red pine, shortleaf pine, loblolly pine, shortleaf and black locust planted.

When these get well underway, think of the beauty! But it has its more practical aspects, too, as this vegetation will prevent erosion of the slopes.

On the main shoulders there will be a mixture of red fescue, red top, perennial ryegrass, alfalfa, white Dutch clover and farm ryegrass.

Something new has been added to this, the first time, I'm told, it's ever been done in this area.

The seeding will be covered with straw and then will be sprayed with a fine asphalt spray. This will form a lace that will stay together and give the grass a better chance to get its hold without erosion setting in.

The landscapers started their work at Eddyville, working south, and have about six miles of the job done, I was informed.

THINKING OUT LOUD (from Sunshine Magazine): The habit of going to the bottom of things often lands a man on top.

Some men wish they were as wise as they think their wives think they are.

There are 112 taxes in a pair of shoes. No wonder we feel pinched.

It's no longer a sin to be rich—it's a miracle.

We all make footprints on the sands of time. Some leave the imprint of a great soul—others just the mark of a heel.

AND THE FINALE: "What funny names those Korean towns have," remarked a man from Shenectady as he read a Poughkeepsie newspaper en route to Hackensack.

Breuer-Robison's Dewey Turner No. 2, in the NW quarter of the NE quarter of the SW quarter, section 35, 7s-6e, (Long Branch) produced an oil well in the Cypress at 2549-62 with an initial production of 80 barrels per day.

Calvert's J. Bona No. 2 in the NW corner of the SW quarter of the NW quarter of section 23, 8s-5e, (Brushy) was drilling at 1360 feet with ten-inch pipe set at 21 feet.

Located for drilling was Dee Miller's Spurlock-Rapp-Jones Communitized No. 3, 430 feet west of the NW quarter of the SE quarter of section 2, 8s-6e, (Raleigh).

Calvert's M. M. Endicott No. 2, 330 feet north and 280 feet west of the SE corner of the NW quarter of the SE quarter of section 2, 8s-7e, was shut down awaiting a pump unit to test the Waltersburg at 2113-20 feet. ### Loses Hand, Arm Mangled In Cornpicker

Clarence Etienne, a young farmer residing on Rt. 1, southeast of Eldorado, lost his left hand and his right arm was mangled Friday in a cornpicker. He was alone when the accident happened, and his cries attracted the attention of a hunter, who came to free him from the machine.

He is a patient at the Ferrell hospital, Eldorado, where he underwent surgery for the amputation of his left hand yesterday, from where a call for blood donors went out. Reports from the hospital state that his condition is fair.

At the Farm Bureau here, it was said that Mr. Etienne injured his right arm, when he used it to try to free himself from the machine. It was also said that he had frequently discussed with Farm Bureau members the danger of accidents in the operation of cornpickers, and it was quite a shock to them, who knew him well, to learn that he is the victim of such an accident.

Vishinsky Keeps UN Guessing On A-Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The Soviet Union kept the United Nations guessing today on whether it would participate in President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky analyzed the proposal for an hour and 39 minutes before the General Assembly's Main Political Committee Friday but declined to give either a yes or a no on Soviet participation.

He did make it clear that if Russia took part in the creation of an international atomic energy agency it would demand a veto power by putting the agency under control of the U. N. Security Council. The major powers have the right of veto in the council.

Vishinsky said time after time that the organization of the agency was a matter to be negotiated and he indicated that Russia considers itself in negotiation with the United States now on the plan.

The American viewpoint is that Russia broke off negotiations and indicated only recently it wanted to resume them. The Soviet delegate objected that the Eisenhower plan did not outlaw nuclear weapons and demanded that the plan be set up so that no country would have an advantageous position on nuclear energy.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., characterized Vishinsky's statement as a tactic of "delay, delay, delay" and asked, "What does the Soviet Union want? What will the Soviet Union accept? What will your government give that will come anywhere near matching what we have offered?"

Fred Snite Dies After 18 Years In Iron Lung

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Frederick B. Snite, who lived nearly half his life in an iron lung, died an apparent victim of the mechanical respirator that kept him alive for 18 years, doctors said today.

Snite, who married and fathered three children since first he was confined to the lung, died Friday in his sleep.

Doctors said the incessant suction of the respirator had weakened his heart in recent years. His father said doctors believed "the incessant pumping of heart against machine and machine against heart" caused his son's death.

Messages of sympathy from all parts of the world were delivered Friday and today to the 44-year-old victim's grieving family. A family spokesman said funeral services would be held Wednesday in River Forest, a Chicago suburb.

Resting on Bridge Gate
Snite, the first publicized polio patient to use the mechanical respirator, arrived here Sunday to spend the winter at his sprawling waterfront home. With him on the trip were his father, his wife and two of his three daughters.

He had entered the Florida state bridge tournament at West Palm Beach and was resting from a game when he died.

Snite's father, a wealthy Chicago financier, was leaving a golf course here when the Rt. Rev. William Barry, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, brought him the news of his son's death.

The father, Frederick B. Snite Sr., said the family's grief was somewhat softened because "he did live 18 years when others in his condition haven't lived a year."

Funeral Services Sunday 3:30 for Orval Barnfield

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home for Orval R. Barnfield, who died Friday of injuries received in an auto accident on Nov. 3. Rev. Ernest Ammon of Carrier Mills, assisted by Rev. O. C. Cooper, will officiate and burial will be in the Lindale Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Barnfield, age 45, operated the Hi-Way cafe at Eldorado and died Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the Harrisburg hospital. He was the son of the late William and Honora Barnfield and was born in Franklin county.

He leaves his wife, Stella; a sister, Mrs. Rosa Sinks, McLeansboro; an aunt, Mrs. Rachel Adams of Du Quoin.

Nine brothers and sisters preceded him in death. Corner Elmer Gibbons announced today that an inquest will be held at the court house Monday at 7 p. m.

Fire Destroys Fred Teele Home; Fireman Hurt

Carl Winkleman Injured When Water Hits Eye

The home of Fred Teele, 1400 South Oak street, was completely destroyed by fire Friday.

The five-room residence caught fire from an exploding oil stove in the kitchen, it is reported by Harrisburg fire officials, and was burning freely when first noticed.

Reports are that Mr. and Mrs. Teele were working in the yard and looked up to see the kitchen ablaze. The fire had such a start that they couldn't enter the house and had to go to a neighbor to call for the fire department.

Firemen worked for more than two hours, then were called back on two other occasions when the smoldering debris broke out in fresh flames. A water line was left at the scene on the last trip.

Fireman Injured
A volunteer fireman, Carl Winkleman, received painful, and possibly serious injuries when a fire hose got out of control and the water struck Winkleman full in the face. Most serious injury was to an eye and it was reported today he had a restless night, but this morning the condition of the eye seemed some improved. He was taken to the Lightner hospital.

The accident occurred when Winkleman and others were fighting the fire on the inside of the house and the man in front of Winkleman fell through the floor, which had been weakened from the fire. When the man fell he lost control of the hose, it made an arc and threw water full force into Winkleman's face. He was knocked out for a time.

The home and contents were a complete loss and a large smoke house also burned.

Crowd Hampers Firemen
Firemen today stated they were hampered in their fire-fighting operations by large crowds of spectators who gathered and at times completely blocked the firemen in their efforts.

This, according to the firemen, is the usual thing. In fact, it is said that on many occasions they have found it necessary to go two or more blocks farther than they should to get to a fire plug, as cars block streets to such an extent that the fire trucks can't be driven to the nearest points.

The fire department made another run yesterday morning, being called to extinguish a grass fire near the A.M.E. church on East Gaskins.

Rites Sunday At 1 p. m. for Vernon E. Lynch

Funeral services for Vernon E. Lynch who died yesterday at 1 p. m. at his home, 1254 South Granger, will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home where the body now lies in state.

Rev. Tommy Guest and Rev. Telis Young will officiate, and interment will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

He had been ill since the latter part of January.

Mr. Lynch was born on Sept. 9, 1912, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lynch in Harrisburg where he had spent most of his life. On Nov. 23, 1950, he married Jewell Yates McNa. He graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school and attended Southern Illinois university before working for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for 14 years. Nine of those 14 years were spent in Alton where he was an agent. For two years he was a drug distributor with Wyeth Co. out of Paducah, Ky., and was manager of Ray's drug store for six years.

He belonged to the Elks and the Odd Fellows and was a member of the First Baptist church where he was a great church worker before moving to Alton. For many years he was teacher of the intermediate boys' class.

He is survived by his wife, Jewell; two sons, James Edward Lynch, 13, and Jimmy Drew McNa, 8, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lynch, 1114 South Webster.

Daughter of Former Galatia Resident Dies

Nancy Kay Judis, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Judis of Cicero, died suddenly at her home yesterday at 2 a. m. Mrs. Judis is the former Ruth Maple of Galatia.

In addition to her parents the little girl is survived by two sisters, Linda and Mary Beth, and her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Maple of Galatia.

The body will lie in state at the Cermak funeral home, 5482 Cermak Road in Cicero.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Economist Says Nuclear Energy Will Not Replace Coal

SPRINGFIELD—An economist says nuclear energy won't seriously compete with coal for 10 or 15 years.

Even then, Dr. W. H. Voskuil said Friday, nuclear energy will serve an increased demand for electricity, without displacing coal in existing utility plants.

Voskuil, mineral economist for the Illinois State Geological Survey at Urbana, discussed trends in the coal market Friday at the 62nd annual meeting of the Illinois Mining Institute.

He said the main reason for the decline in the coal industry is that railroads have converted many steam locomotives to Diesel.

Cole Predicts GOP Members to Okay Contract

WASHINGTON—The congressional Atomic Energy committee dominated by Republicans, was expected to push through twin moves today to put the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract into effect.

Chairman W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) predicted all 10 Republicans on the House Senate group would vote to end hearings on the contract and to waive the 30-day congressional review period. He expected the eight Democrats on the committee to oppose the two actions.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) and Reps. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) and Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), leading opponents of the contract, conceded the vote, to be taken at a closed meeting, would follow party lines. They said they would renew their fight against the contract in the new Democratic-controlled Congress.

Price and Holifield planned to object at today's meeting to ending the current hearings. Holifield said the hearings should not be concluded until "witnesses are called who have been promised the right to appear."

Among such witnesses, he said, are Joseph Volpe, a Washington attorney representing a Tennessee Valley citizens group which opposes the contract; Walter Von Tresckow, member of a New York financial group which offered an alternative to the Dixon-Yates plan; Army Engineers and representatives of the Tennessee Valley Authority who have not yet testified.

Gore said the Democrats had hoped to block the waiver vote but "that was before the President's letter." He referred to a letter written to Cole earlier this week by President Eisenhower making a strong defense of the Dixon-Yates proposal.

Rites Near Broughton Sunday 2 p. m. for Arthur Gholson, 70

Arthur Gholson, 70, who for many years operated a commercial hatchery in McLeansboro, since his retirement had lived in Elgin, died there Friday.

The body is being returned to the Gholson funeral home in McLeansboro.

The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Hickory Hill church near Broughton. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Plan to Bring 209,000 Refugees to U. S.

CHICAGO—Federal and church officials have laid plans to bring 209,000 refugees into the United States.

More than 300 persons from 20 states met Friday at a regional conference sponsored by the National Council of Churches and the Church Federation of Greater Chicago to discuss plans for implementing the 1953 Immigration Act.

The act allows 209,000 more refugees to enter the United States if the same number of assurances from Americans can be obtained.

Representatives of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches said they are attempting to obtain about 100,000 assurances.

Dr. Elfan Rees of Geneva, Switzerland, the World Council of Churches' adviser on refugees, told the conference that the number of homeless persons is increasing by about 18,000 a month.

"Integration, immigration or starvation is the choice facing many thousands of displaced persons abroad for whom a place can be made here," he said.

Items of Agricultural Interest

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois
Page Two Saturday, November 13, 1954

BRINGING HOME THE BACON—Joseph Lengauer's 300-pound pig gave birth to a record litter of 21 pigs on his Seeshaupt, Germany, farm. Two were not strong enough to survive the first critical weeks, and two others died under their mother's weight.

Total Feed Supplies Will Be Large

Total supplies of grains, oilseed meals and by-products for feed in the United States for the feeding year 1954-55 will be large in spite of drought in some areas this year.

L. J. Norton, agricultural economist, and G. W. Salisbury, head of the dairy science department, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, members of this year's feed survey committee, report that feed supplies will total nearly 140 million tons.

That figure assumes that much of the large carryover of corn will be available at a price, Norton and Salisbury say.

This total compares with 117 million tons actually fed during 1953-54. The grains, especially corn, are as usual in relatively more abundant supply than the high-protein feeds.

Harvest of feed grains was larger this year than in 1953. The corn crop was smaller, but the oat, barley and grain sorghum crops were larger. Quality of corn in the northern Corn Belt is good.

Oilseed meal, animal and grain protein, and urea supplies, calculated on an oilmeal equivalent basis, for feed this year are estimated at about 14,623,000 tons. That's about the same tonnage that was fed last year.

Increased soybean meal tonnage more than offsets the reduced cottonseed crop. The estimate of 450,000 tons of oilmeal equivalent of urea (75,000 tons) included in this year's supply figures is based on informal information from the trade.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Mechanization of farms has been moving ahead rapidly in recent years, spurred on by wartime shortages of farm labor and in increases in wages. At the same time there has been a gradual increase in the average size of farms in the United States. Farm operators have found that with modern machinery one farmer today is able to do more work and do it more quickly than several men could do in former days. The farmer also has found that he must keep his machinery busy more days of the year in order to get a return on his investment. The more days a machine is busy the greater is the percent of return.

At the same time, less than 60 percent of all farmers in the United States today own their own farms. Farming today requires a heavy investment of capital.

Some ought to be bred now so that the pigs will be ready for next year's seasonal price rise in late August or early September.

The safe moisture content for corn put in the crib for storage is from 16 to 17 percent. Corn will keep best if it is free from husks, is shelled, and is kept in a rain-proof crib.

It still is a good safety reminder to advise disengaging the power take-off when adjusting the corn picker or when removing trash and stalks.

Particularly good advice for farmers with rolling farms in southern Illinois is the suggestion that a cover crop such as rye be planted in fields from which the corn crop has been picked. Soil erosion will be curtailed, and the rye may be plowed down as a green manure crop next spring.

Research data shows that a cropping system of corn-corn-corn continuously will not only reduce the corn yields but will cause the soil to become more compact. A good rotation plan is needed on every farm.

A welcome suggestion for many southern Illinois farms is the report that wild garlic and wild onion may be partly controlled by spraying with 2, 4-D in November, February, and March at a one and one-half pound rate.

Small patches of perennial noxious weeds may be controlled by spraying at this time of the year with non-selective herbicides such as sodium chlorate or aldicide. The recommended three-pound rate of application will kill or repress all vegetation for a year or more.

This word to the dairyman: for faster and better milking practices a dairy cow should be properly stimulated before milking.

Then, too, good cows have individual differences and need to be fed accordingly.

Farm Employees Are Covered by Social Security

The recent changes in the social security law will affect over two million more agricultural workers. Under the old law they had to work for one farm employer on a full-time basis for several months before their work for that employer started to count toward old-age and survivors insurance. This work regularity test for them has been changed so that many more farm employees will be brought under social security for the first time beginning January 1, 1955. The farm worker will be earning old-age and survivors insurance credits when he earns as much as $100 in cash wages from any one farm operator in a year. One hundred dollars in cash in the course of a year from any one farm employer is the minimum wage upon which the farm employee may begin to build his social security.

The farm employer will deduct a two percent social security tax from the cash wages he has paid the employee, and he will contribute an equal amount. He will report the amount of cash wages that he has paid to each employee and send the total tax to the District Director of Internal Revenue. Taxes for social security will be deducted from a farm worker's cash wages up to $4,200 in a year. Payments to a farm employee in any form other than cash do not count for social security purposes, and farm employers will not include them in their reports.

The new law also includes workers in cotton ginning for the first time after 1954. These workers will begin to earn credits in exactly the same way as other agricultural workers when they receive $100 or more in cash wages from the same employer in a year.

If you cash pay from farm work for one employer is less than $100 in a year, he does not report your earnings and there is no social security tax. For example, if you earn $75 in a year from one employer and another $75 from a second employer, these wages would not count toward social security. But—if you earn $100 from one and $150 from the other, both employers will report your earnings for social security, and you will get credit for the total. Whenever your pay from any farm employer is less than $100 in a year, he should return to you any amount he took out of your pay for social security for that year.

Help Biddy Choose The Right Color

One of your objectives as an egg producer should be to supply eggs to the market that have uniformly pale yellow yolks.

Don J. Bray, extension poultry specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says you can control the yolk color of eggs by the way in which you feed and manage your flock.

First step is to confine your laying flock to the house. Egg yolks respond readily to pigments in the diet of the hens and will show it when the flock has been eating grasses and weeds that contain dark-colored pigments.

The list of things hens eat that cause yolk coloration is almost endless when the flock runs loose. For instance, grass or corn silage and acorns cause a very dark yellow color or even a greenish tinge. Peppers may cause a reddish tinge. Alfalfa meal and yellow corn do most to color the yolks in practical poultry raising. Replacing the corn with wheat, oats, barley or milo will generally lighten yolk color. But it won't be too light if you still feed a normal amount of alfalfa meal.

One reason cottonseed meal is not used in layer rations, Bray says, is that it gives egg yolks a greenish color, especially when eggs are held in storage.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I don't see why you get so excited about a $2 overdraft! Can't you use some of that $7,000,000 surplus you advertise?"

AT YOUR SERVICE—This new farm system, thought up by Johnnie, 5; Joe, 3, and Veronica Spiga, 19 months, would probably send Agriculture Department experts walking away scratching their heads. An "Eggs Laid While You Wait" sign plus two live hens and a basket of eggs stopped traffic at their dad's roadside market near Morristown, Ohio. They sold out in a short time.

Seneca, Knox, Saline Head List In Wheat Tests

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Seneca, Knox and Saline varieties of soft winter wheat continued to yield ahead of other kinds in coarser trials at the University of Illinois trials at Newton, West Salem, Enfield, Ewing, and Elizabethtown. The average in winter wheat variety trials for the six locations (including those at SIU) are: Knox, 47.9 bushels per acre; Seneca, 47.3; Saline, 47.2; Royal, 47.1. Hard wheat varieties averaged 4.5 bushels less per acre at the six locations, a trend that has occurred in past tests, he points out.

Sullivan says that due to mild weather conditions the winter hardness characteristics of the wheat varieties were not given much of a test during the past year.

Farmers Urged To Complete Census Forms

All Illinois farmers are urged to fill out the advance farm census questionnaire as soon as they receive it in the mail and before the census enumerator arrives.

W. G. Kammlade, associate director of the Illinois Agricultural Extension Service, said today that the Extension Service had been asked by the Bureau of the Census to request the cooperation of all farmers in the state to help complete the 1954 Census of Agriculture.

In some states where the census taking already is in progress some farmers have seriously delayed the schedule of work because they did not complete the advance questionnaire before the census taker arrived, Kammlade said.

Many Illinois farmers already have received their copy of the questionnaire in the mail and all others will get them within the next few days. Enumerators will start their task of collecting the questionnaires in nearly all farm communities in the state this week or next.

The mail questionnaire used in most of the states is accompanied by a letter from Director Robert W. Burgess of the Bureau of the Census. This letter also requests each individual farm operator to fill in the answers and to have the completed questionnaire ready for the census enumerator when he calls at the farm a few days later. The enumerator will assist the farmers in filling out the form if he needs help.

Every five years the Census of Agriculture is taken to provide reliable and up-to-date information about the business of farming on which the people of the United States depend for food and raw materials. A knowledge of many matters relating to efficiency of the entire agricultural industry depends in large part on this information.

Kammlade emphasizes that the nation's entire agricultural statistics program is based on the farm census. The government uses the information to develop and administer farm programs. Crop and livestock reporting services, state and local agencies and farm organizations all use the data.

Manufacturers, marketing agencies, newspaper promotion departments, bankers and other financial agencies and farmers themselves all make good use of the census figures when they become available. Assurance is given to each farm-

Census enumerators are sworn into office and the law provides stiff penalties for violations of the confidential code.

GOV. WILLIAM STRATTON joins hands with these young Illinoisans to officially open the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale in this state. Left to right are: Miss Vickie Lynn Shipley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Shipley of Springfield; Perry Grieme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grieme, Elkhart; Dick Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Owen, Springfield; and Miss Marie Desautels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Desautels, Springfield.

This week billions of Christmas Seals will start their march in behalf of better health. Jorgen Hansen, Danish-American artist, designed the 1954 Christmas Seal which honor the first Christmas Seal sale in the world, held in Denmark just 50 years ago. This year's design, with its rows of dancing children among brightly lighted Christmas trees, brings to life the old Danish custom of dancing around the tree, singing carols, after the traditional Christmas Eve dinner of rice porridge and roast goose.

Christmas Seal Sale Campaign To Begin Monday

The Christmas Seal Sale campaign of the Saline County Tuberculosis association will begin Monday with Mrs. Naida Seright Upchurch chairman of the drive.

Envelopes for mailing out the seals were typed by Harrisburg Township high school and Carrier Mills Community high school students. Junior high school students and teachers in Harrisburg helped fill the envelopes for mailing.

The county association is asking an early return from those purchasing seals. For those who do not receive seals in the mail, members of the Harrisburg Woman's club, the Carrier Mills Woman's club and the Eldorado Woman's club will have desks in the banks of the county for one week, Dec. 6 through the 11th. The women will be in the First National bank, Harrisburg, the Egyptian State bank at Carrier Mills and both banks at Eldorado, during that time.

Mrs. Upchurch reports the Saline County Tuberculosis association has contributed $100 to the Illinois Tuberculosis Research fund to help start a TB research program in Illinois.

In a letter to Dr. John H. Skavlem, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor stated he is confident 10 million AFL members will buy and use Christmas Seals and will give the national association their full cooperation.

THE STORY: Greg Seaver, 26, has burned his bridges behind him. He has quit a relatively secure job with his stepfather, the vigorous dogmatic Horace Crain, maker of Crain's Canned Cornbread, and is going to be the chauffeur of a wealthy invalid, Wade Daggett. Wade and Greg will "just get in a car and start out" to search for adventure. Greg has just broken the news to his mother and Horace Crain.

VI

Horace Crain was unexpectedly quiet. He stood up, a big man with iron-gray hair, a ruddy face and moderate good looks, looking down at his stepson who stared up from his low chair, feeling at a disadvantage, though there was nothing new in that. "What do you plan to do?" He added stiffly, "If I may ask?"

Greg did not attempt to make the picture any brighter than it was. "I'm going to drive a man across the country."

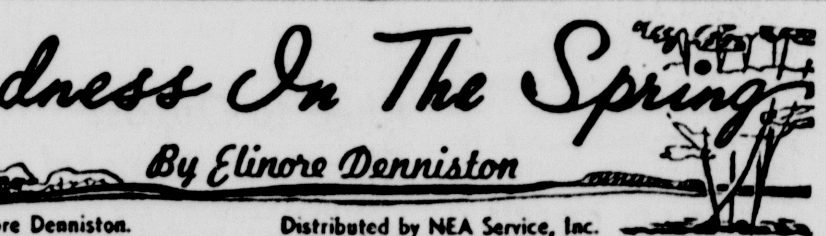

Crain prodded, "And then what?" "I don't know."

"Do you?" Crain asked, "see any future in it?" His irony lay heavy on the air.

Feeling guilty, Greg mumbled, "I don't suppose so."

"Bit odd to be skylarking around, aren't you?" Drifting—Crain let the word settle on the air like smoke, sketching with a gesture of his hand Greg's future: drifting—down and out.

"There won't be much skylarking," Greg said deprecatingly, because he had to say something. Somehow, he could never talk to Crain about what he really had on his mind. They had always ended by clashing over side issues. "He is old and paralyzed."

Greg shook his head. "All I know is that he hasn't much time left. He wants to get out and see things while he can. He lives alone at the Waldorf Towers. No one but a nurse with him. He's a nice guy."

"Waldorf Towers," Crain said thoughtfully. He grew more cheerful. "On his last legs. No family, apparently, or he wouldn't be taking you." His tone indicated that no one would take Greg except as a last resort. "So you get along well, do you? If you play your cards right—"

"I'm not after his money, if that is what you mean." Greg's voice was unexpectedly angry.

His mother put out her hand anxious to check him. "Darling," she warned him in distress, "you shouldn't speak to Horace like that. He didn't mean what you thought." Her forehead was puckered like that of a child who is being unduly punished.

"Didn't he?" Greg asked. Crain refused to lose his temper. "Perhaps," he said politely, "you would care to tell me what you are after?"

Greg surprised himself by laughing. Since he had got the whip hand over his conscience he had surprised himself a great deal. "The other side of the moon," he said.

"You are so like your father!" Millicent cried. "I am in despair about you, Greg. You can't expect Horace to find another job for you."

"I don't," Greg assured her. "And I don't really mind being like my father. He must have been rather a good guy."

After that, there was nothing much to be said. Crain, gathering his dignity around him like a Roman toga, went off to his study, implying that the fate of nations depended on his labors. Absently

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of this city, close friends of the couple, were their bridal attendants.

For her wedding Miss Suver, who is a very attractive brunette, wore a white knit dress, with a small white off-the-face hat, and her bridal corsage was of orchids.

Both are employed by the Central Illinois Public Service Co., which she has served as cashier for five years, and he has been employed for the past year as book-keeping supervisor at the Marion office of that company.

They are at home at 108 East Stockton street, Marion.

Sen. McCarthy Says He Will Not Apologize

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy says he isn't going to apologize to anyone, so the Senate might as well go ahead and censure him.
McCarthy, arriving here Friday night to attend a testimonial dinner tonight, told newsmen he hopes the censure will be over with soon "so we can get on with the work we've got to do."

He said he would answer only questions submitted in writing or posed in speeches by other senators.

Held on Charge Dunking Son in Scalding Water

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A disabled Korean war veteran, who refused to seek medical aid for his dying two-year-old daughter, was in jail today charged with "dunking" his three-year-old son in scalding water.
The prisoner, William G. Bell, 27, admitted to police Friday he placed his son Robert in a duffel bag and hung him from a door for four hours. He said he struck the child on the head, back and buttocks with a stick and then dunked his feet in the scalding water.

A new television picture tube shows pictures so bright that they can be viewed even in brilliant sunshine. It was produced especially for use in an airplane cockpit or on the bridge of a ship.

Only One Senior on Thompsonville Cage Squad, Which Got Off to a Good Start

Thompsonville's prospects for the basketball season just launched aren't too bright. Coach Bob Munday, Tiger mentor, will tell you. But he'll also add that next year should bring ample compensation.

The Tiger roster lists only a single senior. Seven are juniors and the other two are sophomores. The lone senior is Russel Lemmon, tallest man on the squad.

Experience is what will be missing and noticeable in the team this year. Coach Munday declares. Yet this becomes slightly difficult to believe in the light of Thompsonville's first game—a 73-51 victory Tuesday over a Mills Prairie team that boasts of eight lettermen.

The Tigers will have their share of height with Lemmon and Tom Hodgson towering 6-3 each. Tom Marsh, regular guard on last year's club, is 5-10 and Terry Doss, a reserve up from last year, is 5-11. Munday also has Charles Gregory and Norman Carlie, two other juniors with a year's reserve experience.

Considering that only 14 boys in the entire high school turned out for basketball and that the total male enrollment at the school is less than 50 this year, Thompsonville might be doing well to floor a team at all. But under Coach Munday's capable direction the team may come along faster than anticipated.

The Tigers are defending Little Egyptian conference champs, a distinction they have held the past two seasons.

Graduation cost Thompsonville the loss of four members of the first six. They were Jack Simpson, Jim Hodgson, Bob Isaacs and Earl Schwabe. Last year's team won 20, lost five.

Ridgway Beats Rosiclare; Equality Suffers 4th Loss

Ridgway turned back Rosiclare 50-45, and Equality suffered its fourth straight defeat of the season in games played at the Gallatin county schools last night. Cave-in-Rock was the victor over Equality, 48 to 41.

It was Ridgway's first conquest of the new season, the Eagles having dropped their opener to Cave. Coach Al Penman's charges took over the lead in the first quarter, 12-11, and were never behind in the last three periods. They held a 25-17 margin at the intermission and a 38-26 edge entering the final quarter.

Rosiclare made a desperate bid in the final minutes after Ridgway had lost four men on personal fouls. The clock cut short the Bears' effort. Rosiclare won the preliminary, 72-38.

Equality, experiencing considerable difficulty in getting underway this season, lost another close tussle—this time to Cave. It was the second straight conference victory for the Rivermen and leave them tied with Shawneetown for the lead.

Any notion that professional footballers don't get worked up emotionally is dispelled by the Pittsburgh Steelers, who caused Paul Brown to remark after the 55-27 thumping of Cleveland, "How can you beat a team that comes out on the field with tears in their eyes?"

When the lights dim at Madison Square Garden and Gladys Coaling tinkles the first strains of the "Star-Spangled Banner" on the organ, Vince Martinez—if he's fighting that night—sings out in a lusty tenor from his corner . . . in contrast to the tense silence of most gladiators.

Sid Gillman, the dynamically successful headmaster at Cincinnati, made Arnold Galiffa an All-American in 1948 . . . by bringing to West Point a new type of blocking technique which for the first time allowed an end time enough to get off his passes . . . and the Gillman-type pass protection is still in force at Army . . . Serious Sid was unpopular with the other young coaches then around . . . only because he made football an eight-day-a-week project, setting a torrid pace for devotion to duty.

second, of course, only to headman Red Blaik himself. It was after Penn lost to Duke, 52-0, and Mrs. Steve Sebo (head coach) telephoned Mrs. Paul Blaik, assistant coach: "I don't think I'll let Steve take this. After all, I'm just a little country girl, and we can always go back to Michigan State."

Vic Prinzi, the so-called fifth-string quarterback at Florida State who threw three TD passes and scored himself against VMI, is a Waverly, N. Y., boy who spurned Notre Dame and others . . . and chose Florida State, simply because he could take along his high school coach, Frank Toomey, as a Seminole assistant.

Lyal Clark, the veteran line coach who moved to Ohio State this year (and coincidentally look at what the Bucks have done), was an outstanding end at Western Maryland in his younger days . . . although only 5-9 . . .

George Mikan was spurred into his decision to vacate his Mr. Basketball title by unpleasant salary negotiations just before the season started and with the men who he eventually bought out to gain a one-third control of the Lakers . . . after which Laker stalwarts Dugie Martin, Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen asked the boss to play again . . . But big George is serious—and very touchy—about quitting.

Big Clyde Lovellette, Mikan's center successor for the Lakers, could take off that pot he carries around the court . . . if he'd lay off such idiosyncrasies as doughnuts before lunch . . .

The belly play off the T that's spreading around the country was devised by little Eddie LeBaron in a practice session at College of the Pacific back in 1948 . . . when big John Rohde at defensive end was slaughtering the fullback on handoff maneuvers . . . One play, Eddie and the fullback fouled up the handoff, Rohde was in to make the tackle as usual, but Eddie withdrew the fullback and tipped out a halfback for a long gain . . . After that, it became a standard device, now used by Yale, Army, Georgia Tech and Kentucky, among others.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Participating in a nationwide campaign to reduce, or eliminate, traffic accidents in every community during a 24-hour period, Gov. William G. Stratton today proclaimed Wednesday, Dec. 15, as "Safe Driving Day" in Illinois.

At the same time, Gov. Stratton announced the appointment of Carl A. Miller, a director of the Chicago Motor Club, as state director of "S-D Day."

"Safe Driving Day" is being sponsored by President Eisenhower's Action Committee for Traffic Safety to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when all motorists and pedestrians do their part, with the test being whether every community can be free of traffic accidents on that day.

Library to Observe National Book Week Nov. 14-20

"Let's Read" is the slogan for the 36th annual celebration of National Book Week, Nov. 14-20, and will be observed at the Mitchell-Carnegie library.

The 1954 Book Week posters on display have been designed by Lynd Ward, well known illustrator of children's books and winner of the 1953 Caldecott Medal. The three reading children on the poster represent all ages, from the small child with a picture book to the teenager's joy at a good book's discovery.

Full color bookmarks reproducing the Book Week poster will be given as souvenirs and also bookmarks listing the author and the book that has been awarded the annual John Newberry medal for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children from 1922 to 1954 and the Caldecott medal award for the illustrator of the most distinguished book for children, from 1938 to 1954.

These awards are given by the Children's Library association of the American Library association.

The Mitchell-Carnegie library has been newly decorated throughout and new wall pictures have been purchased and hung in the children's room.

New books have been received of interest to juveniles and for adults the latest in fiction and non-fiction are available. Patrons and new borrowers are invited to visit the library.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Aurora East pocketed the Big Eight Conference crown and Roxana, Chenoa and Wheaton completed perfect seasons in windup Illinois prep football games Friday night.

Centralia, East St. Louis, Peoria Manual, Peoria Central and Pittsfield also turned in victories.

For many teams, Friday night games finished 1954 play.

Aurora East kicked Rockford West 41-7 and benefitted by a 6-6 tie between La Salle-Peru and Elgin to top Big Eight honors. Aurora East, La Salle-Peru and Elgin had been deadlocked for first place.

Roxana buried Vandalia 59-0. Chenoa walloped Fairbury 47-0 and Wheaton rolled over Dundee 32-14 to end unbeaten-untied seasons. Chenoa now has 22 wins in a row, second only to East St. Louis.

East St. Louis ground out a 39-0 win over Alton, the Flyers' 30th consecutive triumph. Games with Centralia and Belleville remain on the East St. Louis schedule.

Peoria Central and Manual vaulted into a first place tie in the Big 12, one of them assured of the title. Central tripped up league-leading Decatur 7-0 and Manual smashed Urbana's title hopes 33-6.

Royalton Rallies For 71-66 Win Over Thompsonville

After leading through three quarters of play, Thompsonville was unable to check a late Royalton rally and lost a hard-fought 71-66 decision. The Tigers held an eight-point edge going into the final period.

Coach Bob Munday's junior-studded lineup piled up a 21-12 advantage at the quarter and were still on top at halftime, 36-30. In the third period they outscored their host, 10-14, but the final session brought a 27-point Royalton rally that the invaders could not stem.

It was the first loss for the Tigers.

Report Democrats Warned Against Loyalty Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York World-Telegram and Sun in a copy-right dispatch from Washington, said today the Eisenhower administration has warned the Democrats against launching any investigation of the GOP loyalty program.

The story said the administration warned it would prove that 96 per cent of federal employees fired as security risks were inherited from the Truman regime.

The dispatch in the Scripps-Howard newspaper cited a report released by the administration during the campaign showing that 6,926 federal employees had been fired in one year as security risks or had resigned while adverse information was in their files.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	18 1-14
Monday	Matthew	18 15-22
Tuesday	Galatians	6 1-10
Wednesday	Galatians	3 12-25
Thursday	1 Timothy	3 14-17
Friday	1 John	1 1-11
Saturday	Psalm	119 9-16

Father and Son—and the Bible! The three of us make a team that the two of us could never match.

It's always been that way—as long as man has possessed holy treasures of truth to which he could turn for guidance.

A father can make a better man of his son by companionship and example. A son can make a better man of his father by the natural inspiration that comes with parental devotion. And the Bible can make better men of both, by molding their lives to the pattern God Himself provided.

For 138 years the American Bible Society has been translating, publishing, and distributing copies of Scripture in more than 60 countries, in 165 languages. Sightless people alone have these precious words in 38 systems and languages. Give the Society the support it deserves!

And give the Bible the place in your family's life that it deserves!

'A Study in Values'

Proverbs 11:27-28; 13:7; 15:13-17
GOLDEN TEXT: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold." (Prov. 22:1)
INTRODUCTION: Every person is faced with decisions daily. Some of these are small by nature, and some are great. Making the right choice elevates life and enriches one's future. Making wrong decisions retards progress and often degrades life.
Therefore, we should have a sense of values which will help in the making of right decisions. The Book of Proverbs is worthy of one's study. A sense of values will be enriched by such a study. Let us now consider some choices:

I. GOOD AND EVIL
(12:3; 11:27; 22:4)
All of us agree that both good and evil are in the world today. How difficult sometimes to make the right decision. When we have love for God and devotion to Him in our hearts, we are in position always to make right decisions. When one sees evil and avoids it, he avoids also the awful consequences of the evil.

II. WEALTH AND POVERTY
(15:16; 19:1)
We know that wealth can be useful and bring much joy, and we also know that poverty can cause much distress and discomfort. However, we also know that quite often the exact opposite is true.

I know a woman who is worth close to a million dollars. She is living on meager rations and has closed off all the rooms in her old house except two. She is doing this to save money. She is covetous, stingy and miserly. She has permitted her wealth to do this to her by some very unwise decisions.
It is much better to be poor and have integrity, and the respect of one's fellowman, than to be wealthy and be without such blessings.

III. JOY AND SORROW
(15:13-16)
The happiest people on earth should be Christian people. God wants it that way. Even in the midst of sorrow, tribulation and trial, God's children have a "peace that passeth all understanding." Only a right relationship with God can bring about such an assurance.

IV. LOVE AND HATRED (15:17)
Yes, sad to say, both of these attitudes prevail in the world today. Which one rules your life? Is there hatred in your heart to toward any person? If so, you are hurting yourself. Without love, all other things in your life are empty and useless. With love all other parts of your life will change. There is transforming power in love. That is why Jesus said: "Love your enemies," and again, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

V. REPUTATION AND POSSESSIONS (22:1)
"A good name is rather to be chosen than riches." A good reputation is far more precious than wealth. One of Shakespeare's famous characters said: "He who steals my purse steals trash, but he who filches me of my good name robs me of that which no thief can steal, but leaves me poor indeed." How true!

CONCLUSION: Yes, there is something noble about one with the right sense of values. When choosing between good and evil, wealth and poverty, joy and sorrow, love and hatred and reputation and possessions, be quite sure that you "above all fear God." He is the Maker of us all, and the "giver of every good and perfect gift." He will grant them that ask Him a right sense of values.
